We have been raising beef cattle for over 40 years. The year we were married we moved to the family farm and started farming with family under "Spearing Family Farms". It was here we became involved with Maine Anjou cattle. We raised registered purebred Maine Anjou for many years. After my dad retired and Spearing Family Farm dissolved, we decided we needed to add more performance to our herd so we began experimenting with a few different breeds. We used Hereford bulls for a few years getting the baldies we wanted, Angus bulls off and on but eventually turned to the black Simmental. Now we run about 250 commercial cows many with the Maine Anjou breeding in their background and keep back 40 to 50 heifer calves every year. We run mainly black Simmental bulls now with bloodlines from Captain Morgan, Poker Face, High Octane, Fusion and not forgetting about our black Maine Anjou bull off of Nage Bank Roll. Our oldest son Nick, his wife Chelsie and their 4 children moved to the farm 2 years ago and have become actively involved with the farm. Although their kids are still very young, they are involved with everyday activities, along with our other 3 grandchildren when they are around. This is why we still want the Maine Anjou in the background, they not only have the milk but the docility is there and the Simmental adds alot of depth and muscle. Our bred Heifers were preg checked on October 14 and all are due to calve end of March early April. They are bred to a black homo polled "Spring Creek BestBeef" He has proven himself to be a very easy calving heifer bull that has good growthy calves. These breds are all vaccinated with Bovi Shield Gold FP5, Ultrabac7/Somubac and were Ivomeced. They are all age verified also.	Pen Weight: 6956	Avg Weight: 1391.2
